AutoCAD (Final 2022)

John Houghton (golfer) John Houghton (20 December 1881 – 27 October 1954) was an English professional golfer of the early 20th century. He was one of the leading players on the European circuit in the first decade of the century, but injury ruined his chances of winning the 1914 British Open. Early life Houghton was born in Norwich, Norfolk on 20 December 1881. He was the son of John Houghton, who was in business in Norwich for 30 years. The family moved to Chelsea, London, when John was about ten. He was educated at Repton School and turned pro in 1902. Golf career Houghton won several important matches, including the West of England Amateur Championship and England Golf Union Open Amateur Championship in 1908 and 1909. In the 1909 Open he missed the cut and finished tenth. In the 1914 Open at Prestwick he was paired with Tommy Armour who made a hole in one on the 15th hole. Houghton went on to win the British Open that year with a record score of 271. In the 1914 British Open Houghton held a three shot lead over Ted Ray at the 18th hole, but lost the lead when his tee shot found the tree, a hole-in-one. Ray then made a hole in one on the par three, 15th, with Houghton able to make only the last. He won the 1911 and 1912 U.S. Open; it was his second win in the Open. Houghton was runner-up in the 1912 French Open, losing to J.H. Taylor. In the 1912 French he was paired with J.H. Taylor who was the captain of the United States Golf team for the 1912 Olympic Games. Houghton and Taylor had a bad day and finished tied for last. Houghton was also runner-up in the 1912 St. Paul Open, losing to Byron Nelson. In 1913 Houghton was runner-up in the New Jersey State Open behind Leo Diegel. That same year he won the South African Open, beating Tom Ball and Tommy Armour in a playoff. The 1914 Open was Houghton's last event; he finished with an even par score of 272, having missed the cut in the first two rounds. He had been paired with Ray at the second round of the Open but missed the cut. Houghton died in 1954 at the age of 72. Results
