I'm sorry but the system will not generate this code for you. I'm sure there is another way but this is not one of them. Q: Insert multiple rows from an array with a single field into an existing table I have a table named schedule_appointments. In this table, there are multiple columns that contains the data. +-----+-----+ | id | name | +-----+-----+ | 4 | A | 5 | B | 3 | C | 6 | D | 2 | E | +-----+-----+ I got multiple records in an array named records[]. I also have a field from table schedule_patient_info called schedule_patients_id. Let's say the data in the table schedule_patients_id like this: +-----+-----+ | id | name | +-----+-----+ | 1 | A | 2 | B | 3 | C | 4 | D | 5 | E | +-----+-----+ I need to insert all the records from the records[], that is multiple records from each array in to the table. I don't know why, but I just can't insert only one record from each array(record[[]]) to the table. It looks like this: +-----+-----+ | id | name | +-----+-----+ | 4 | A | 5 | B | 3 | C | 1cb139a0ed
