November 25, 2013, FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE NASA'S MOONSHOT PROJECT SELECTS SRI LANKA AS CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN AUSTRALIA AS SOUTHERN OCEAN REGION TO DETECT AND DISCOVER NEARLY 100 ANCIENT FLAGS WORTH MILLIONS Sri Lanka and Australia are chosen to search for ancient shipwreck artifacts that may include the remains of a famous 6th-century BCE naval explorer named Vessantara The Pan Ocean Recovery Project, an international multi-million dollar investigation for shipwrecks, is the first of its kind to be supported by an alliance of governments and major institutions. With more than 18,000 artifacts to examine, an aging workforce, inadequate funds and training, and myriad cultural and geographic barriers, the recovery of the ancient artifacts from the Battle of the Java Sea will be a monumental undertaking. The main objective of the project is to find the approximately 100 shipwrecks scattered throughout the South Pacific. Each wreck holds the potential to unlock secrets about the ancient seafarers who crafted the treasures of the Sri Lankan and Australian coastlines. International collaboration within the scientific community, government representatives, and shipwrights from both countries is intended to fulfill the goal of the Pan Ocean project. The two countries will work together to explore and attempt to

From this menu, you can start a new project, open existing projects, or close the current project. If you just start Easy Viewer, you will be presented with a warning message about network connectivity, so you should first make sure that your network connection is established. When running under Windows Vista or Windows 7, you will be prompted to insert a disc, so that the program can open the files on your computer. You can safely omit that disc insertion, since the files are stored on your hard drive. No matter what file format you choose, the last saved/stored copies will be listed as the last opened, in case you are working on a different computer. Regardless of the file format you choose, it is saved automatically to your computer, and it is displayed completely rendered. If you need to change the file format, choose File->Save As, and choose another file format from the drop-down menu. If you want to take a quick look at the data in the files, you can click the eye icon and you will have the following options: View All Files, View Images, and View Documents. Note, however, that there is no way of changing how the displayed page looks. The files can be opened/edited only in Easy Viewer, and you can open multiple files at once. If you need to remove a file, you can click the Delete icon. If you want to remove all the files at once, simply click the 'Clean all' button. You can also use the 'Folder View' window to display a folder structure, or
