account of language rules, but you can let them remain in your source text to be ignored later.) If you want to get more information on how text can be parsed, I suggest you start with this learning path and you'll get there pretty quickly. [Bacterial infections in patients with acute leukemia]. Bacterial infections are a frequent complication in hematology patients; a large amount of literature is available on this topic. We performed a retrospective analysis of data about bacterial infections in patients with acute leukemia who were admitted to our hematology unit between 2007 and 2012. During this period, we observed 60 bacterial infections in 36 patients. The most common sources of bacteraemia were the respiratory tract (63%) and urinary tract (50%); the median time of infection was 9 days. We observed a high incidence of gram-negative infections (67%) and a prevalence of Pseudomonas aeruginosa (29%). We observed a high rate of nephrotoxicity (53%), the most common organism being Klebsiella pneumoniae; this agent was also responsible for the highest mortality (25%). Respiratory tract infections are the most common cause of morbidity and mortality in patients with acute leukemia, and P. aeruginosa is one
