Playstation.Q: How can I persist a user's choice when I check a checkbox? I have a checkbox: And I want to be able to persist a value when they click the checkbox. In PHP, I would just have a `$_POST` value to "remember" the value. In Rails, I'd have a `user = User.find(params[:id])` statement to get the user I'm editing. I can get all the checked boxes with `@r_ids = params[:r_ids]` But how can I access the value that each user checked? So if I do: `@r_ids = params[:r_ids]` `@r_ids.each do |r_id| ...` I can get the user by `@r_id = r_id`, but how can I access their choice? A: If all checkboxes are in one form group they can be represented like this: `r_ids }, class: 'popup-form' do |f| %>
