February 8, 2016 - This means that all "small" servers (32 players and below) will now run at 45Hz compared to the previous default 30Hz. which is supposed to mean. This change will not apply to Game Center servers running at 60Hz or higher. On Game Center servers, we have found that this change has significant performance implications, especially for servers currently running at 45Hz. Like many other people, we don't know where the exit point is from this. For this reason, we have decided to delay announcing any new tweaks to our software and graphics.
