Acer Cinedash Media Console Driver Zip

A: Yeah, I think you are right about the issue you had with the XDCAM and HD-CX55A drivers. I think you just have to put the error in the log. Could you please try to enable app debugging log and check if there is any error in the `xdcam_mwmanager.c`? There is only a lot of messages about missing capability in `xdcam_util.c`. I think that the XDCAM/HD-CX55A drivers cannot use the usb port 1 like the HS-X75A does, so just before the point where the driver is going to create the usb device, it tells the system to check if the USB port 1 is available. And I think you have a bad configuration or setting something in the registry or the system that is blocking this port and the driver fails. There is also a "error" with the usb controller driver. It says: "`usb_set_configuration(): (0x0x01) No configuration available`" and the driver shows this message in the log. I think the driver tries to search for a usb controller configuration (0x01) which is not available so it stops the driver... But it doesn't specify the exact error it is having. Also, I think that you have to download a new version of the Acer Cinedash Media Console Touch Board Driver.

I don't know the version you have... but I think that it could be 1.5.5 and not 1.5.6.

Can you post the error you see in the log? I would like to help you with that. Bye Q: How to remove the blob url from the markdown front matter? I want to show the file path instead of a url that points to the blobs. In the markdown files that's how it looks: --- title: Site Title --- . . . File Path ->

/files/foo/bar/file.txt Some code-blocks don't work as expected. A: It seems that path in the front matter is a string. Use it as a string (for example, for linux paths): --- title: Site

Title --- . . . "File Path -> /files/foo/bar/file.txt" Some code-blocks don't work 0cc13bf012
