Features Key:

- Killer mouse - We made these to help match the texture of the Track-bot arena, and with the awesome REV, some crazy times.
- NukeBox - Hilariously named after a Nuke Hardware style that you can buy with the Beer Box. Those cans of beer are just waiting to be sprinted around the map, ripping holes in walls and blowing up surrounding track bots.
- Flying dubs - In the event you are solo, can you remember why you are even up here? Well why not give it a go anyway, if not, then maybe it's time to buy a beer!
- Really - Really RARE
- Kinda Fun - Feel free to just smash a wall, or run down the tracks, but remember these map knobs aren't just cosmetic - they are actually maps!

"This game is inspired by the new RPG genre and is designed to shake up the current gaming market. Although everything appears to be a streamlined traditional RPG, we are attempting to add some fresh elements of the genre that have never been seen before. " - Inside Story On July 10, 2012, we were able to gain approval from Bemani.net (a Japanese MMORPG publisher) and released the following announcement to the public. "A visual novel about a pirate named Kate (Unnamed Ship's Girl) is to be released on August 14, 2013! We are building a new engine that will allow for a better user experience than our previous visual novel, anime-style game "The Girl Who Leapt Through Space," and we are preparing for the release of the game. We would greatly appreciate it if you would look forward to it and give us your support!! Thank you for your kind attention!" On August 14, the final day of the announcement period, we released a trailer of the title, "Is This a Child's Game?", in which "Kate" (as she will be revealed in the story) is shown as a girl with a devil tail. Inside Story has around two to three hours of gameplay. The story will depict the theme of a family. Spoiler: The tragedy of family ties. A girl named Kate runs away from home, and she finds her way on board the ship Kite. She is drawn to a secret treasure hunt with destiny, but she is forced to become the ship's mascot after her father is killed in a fight with pirates. However, she comes back on board as the captain's daughter after ridding the pirates from a huge balance and returns home. We are currently accepting feedback and suggestions from our communities. If you wish to receive an answer, please visit the thread in the "Knowledge Base" (developers' communications). Thank you for your interest and understanding! How to make the trading card Since the game will have the elements of Online trading cards (ECG), we would like to describe how you can make it. What is the ECG? Fly Rescue in Puget Sound EDITOR'S NOTE: Linda and many of her friends have been surfers and swimmers since childhood. They have been lifesavers since their teens and made Whitecaps Unions and rescues their full time passion until recently. A movement began earlier this year to help take the workload off lifesavers by creating a ministry that bands together teenage volunteers, young adults, and parents, to save lives in keeping with the Marine Mammal Act. A fisher-family built its own small center on Shoreline-KOMO lake and will build the first of their two centers near Issaquah in June. If you need immediate assistance, try Yellow Ribbon for FREE.

Homes for the Admirably Stupid Black-Eyed Kids, and Thomas Engel 12-24 provides urgent lifesaving capabilities 24/7 at affordable rates. For more information contact Linda Spaulding (206) 533-3656. Hi I am Linda Spaulding but don't feel like a monster. I am a Junior Lifeguard at Beachwood Community Beach to my east, a Rescue Diver at Issaquah Lifeguard Pier to my west and there has never ever been a time that I have had a real life threatening situation and someone has been sent to save me. I have never had to save someone and my first time was a frantic swim in the Strait of Juan De Fuca with my parents when I was 15 and they were 21. I swam with them for a few minutes to try and get to a stone up against a rock foundation and that to me was the first real call where I really knew it was a life or death situation. It was a close call that I made and I am truly thankful to have been in the lifeguard training process and making the ultimate commitment to the ministry. I am now 22 and graduate from Basic Beach Whitecaps in June. I have also been a Dive Rescue in Snohomish. I went to an adult swim program and I went back to swim school. I started out as a Lifeguard at a public beach near the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport. This was the place to have fun and not get in trouble. I swam with my friends and lots of times we would make an extra trip to pick up another kid who was being ignored or would disobey me with swimming in one spot that I was trying to keep out of the people's way. I loved lifeguarding as a young person and was paid to swim
