Q: VB.net - scrollbar disappears when a combobox and textbox are both in a panel

I have a panel that contains the controls of a login form. I put a scrollbar on the panel as it has many controls. I have a combobox and a textbox on this panel. I want to disable the scrollbar as the controls are big enough and the user can scroll through the controls. So I wanted to enable the scrollbar only when the mouse goes over the top and bottom of the panel. But when I do that, the scrollbar disappears. Is there any way I can fix this? Here is the code:

```
With Me.UnnamedControl40
.Width = 355
.Height = 17
.TabStop = True
.Controls.Add(Me.TextBox1)

New Jersey's highest court this week limited the freedom of a couple who had a fertility doctor implant multiple female embryos using his own eggs, at the couple's request, to be born with disabilities. The New Jersey Supreme Court's ruling is the latest ruling by the U.S.'s highest court to make it more difficult for same-sex couples to have children with their own genetic material. In December, the court ruled that bans on marriage equality extended to the federal government, and in June, the court ruled that some states can refuse to recognize marriages of same-sex couples if the state doesn't recognize their marriage. In this case, the legislature banned abortion and created a mechanism for people to get permission to bring a child to term even after he or she is born with a defect, whether caused by genetics or a doctor's error. A year earlier, a New Jersey law enacted in 2012 required doctors to obtain permission from the superintendent of any public hospital before performing non-therapeutic abortions on minor girls under the age of 14. Last year, a federal court invalidated New Jersey's law, and this week, the state's highest court upheld that ruling. "The right of individuals to have a family of their own, an individual's right to privacy and the right to pursue a meaningful and fulfilling personal life are among the most cherished rights in the Bill of Rights," the court wrote. "[T]he law protects the sanctity of [these] rights... with constitutional urgency. It is not, and never will be, a subservient authority.
