What's new:

The action RPG genre has grown to be extremely popular around the world, including in South Korea. Since the start of the early 2000s, the real-time multiplayer nature of action RPGs has been well received by the Korean gaming industry. We decided to extend a call to those who have experienced the Korean word for "RPG" until they formed a binding alliance with others...We came up with the idea that an overseas fantasy game of this genre should be released. With Yuna Online's long history of quality, action-oriented games, we established the team and implemented the core technology and game concept. • Selling 30 Million Downloads and becoming the No.1 Game for Tablet PCs Since its launch in 2007, Yuna Online has sold more than 30 million downloads worldwide. In November 2011, Yuna Online became the No.1 game for Tablets according to Apple and Mac OS X Corporation.

As another milestone, Yuna Online North America is approaching completion of its beta testing. This is the first in a line of action RPGs with a setting in the (desert-like) imaginary continent of Castaway. This continent has similar characteristics to the Middle East. The fantasy setting was introduced in order to re-excite the fans and to send the message "If you're an overseas fan, come play in America!" In recent months, we have also been planning several key features for the launch version.

Yuna Online is set on the imaginary continent of Castaway in the Lands Between. [Source: Yuna Online official web site]

It is in the Auckland Region of the North Island. Te Puke is also the name of the town and region on the south shore of the island. Te Puke is located north of the town of Auckland and northwest of the city of Wellington. The Māui-o-Taranga or "Tongue of Land" are some of the largest islets in the Hauraki Gulf. They are also known as Pukehā, or "the young ones". Te Puka Island sits between them and at the northern end of the Hauraki Gulf. History Te Puka is of significance in the history of Māori settlement in the Auckland region, as it is believed to be the island where Te Rauparaha settled with his wife and children. Te Rauparaha landed on the islet in late April 1807 and was given a blanket by the Pakeha settlers and a shovel by the Maori people. The story goes that, as his relatives observed the size of the island, they told him it was too small for his purposes. He is alleged to have replied: "I will see how big it is tomorrow." The following day, the island was virtually uninhabited; what was left of the village and the people
