----- -From Everything Anime I- Saku Saku: Love Blooms with the Cherry Blossoms We've just a couple of days left until the opening ceremony of the 2020 Gundam World Championships in the southern province of Kyushu. In the face of the coronavirus pandemic, this international festival, held every three years, is reducing the event to just six days of games, the closing ceremony and the Cultural Forum 2020. It is unprecedented. But because you usually see a Gundam World Championships with a huge crowd of 1 million spectators, the number of people expected to attend this year's event is around 50,000 and it's not expected to draw that many in terms of fan interest. This is the first time that the International Duel Championship (IDC) part is held solely on festival grounds alone. I know that it's been a while since I've uploaded an original article and I'll be taking some time off, and I apologize for that. So to begin, I have the honor to present my analysis of the games in the World Championships. It's mostly just to give you an idea of all the gameplay mechanics from this event. Also, in addition to the hand drawn panels and photomontages of the legendary Gundam scientist Wu Haiying, we have the unfolding of Celestial Being's strategy of the year: The Assault Element - Absolute Eclipse. 1. "A Piece of Sword Art Online" Although the official games that are broadcasted on a television station and relayed at the World Championships are not the same as the actual games that are being played, the name of the game that is played at the closing ceremony is revealed to be the alternate form of SFV, titled "A Piece of Sword Art Online". The game borrows many of the mechanics from Sword Art Online's game arc. Because it's easy to theorize, I'm going to start with the special move "Ashura" that is present in the name of the game. Unsurprisingly, there are plenty of different variations of this mechanic throughout the course of the game. The quick explanation of it is that Ashura is a variety of the ability called "Double Direction Sweep" in original form. When someone who

Long ago, in the age of magic, the people of Socotrine feared the terrible creatures lurking within the sands of the terrible Ostrath Desert. They called them the Fallstreaks, and lived in fear that they might someday rise up from the sands. But they rose, and the people fled south, leaving the oases they could not defend to starve and be overrun. Now... the Fallstreaks have returned. The only survivors of Socotrine, thousands of them, march north. Can you stop them? Fallstreak is a bleak, grimly humorous first-person horror game about a group of people trapped together in a harsh, unforgiving land where death lurks and survival is damn near impossible. In this post-apocalyptic world, violence is the last resort of desperate men and women. All you have is what's at your side, and you'll have to rely on your wits and your own worth to survive in this harsh land where nothing is what it seems. Telangana Reporter Killed In Beating Ravana Reddy By Cops, Says Failing At The Standards Set By The First PM Golaknath Upadhyaya Telangana Capital Hyderabad [India], Aug 1 (ANI): Telangana has been in shock over the murder of DSP Ravana Reddy, who was based at Balmakhamoor. The DSP was beaten to death by the Telangana policemen in an anti-encroachment drive on Friday. According to official sources, while the police put their foot down on the wall and began slapping the head with their boots, the accused began to beat the officers. The DSP allegedly resisted and in turn, was beaten to death. He was not alone for he has two sons also, both of them are aware of the fact that they were beaten by the police and now a Reddy, associated with the police's office in Jahapur have been beaten to death. While Telangana Home Minister Mahmood Hasan was under the impression that police personnel associated with the anti-encroachment
