It works basically by negotiating on the interest and late fees in exchange for giving up the principal. This means that the interest portion of the debt is paid off, but the principal portion remains. That way you are debt free while the debt collector gets paid. This sounds ideal, right? But you have to be aware that any form of debt settlement will allow you to remain defaulted for a longer period of time. This can last anywhere from a few months to years. At the same time, the debt collector may or may not renegotiate terms of the agreement. When choosing a debt settlement company there are some criteria you must consider. You also want to know that you will be able to get out of debt in a timely manner and have the opportunity to rebuild your credit. Another thing to note is how flexible the company is when it comes to payment options. In other words, will you be able to choose a payment option that suits your budget? Finding out how the company will work with your finances is important because it will impact how much you will be able to recover from the debt. Will You Be Able To Get Out Of Debt? One of the
