As we saw in the trailer, using motion capture data from real players enhances some key aspects of the game. For example, players will react quicker and accurate heading of the ball. We'll see how this works when the final version launches later this month. The aforementioned trailer also showcased the new motion capture system and various options that are available within the game. The new user interface features various player morphs, masks and player controls that can be set to quick or manual. Some of the options include player pacing, player posing and more. FIFA 22 launches on September 28 for PS4, Xbox One, Switch, PC and Google Stadia. For more details, you can also check out the official website. but i have a Avermedia 622 with native support, i can't guarantee the release date of this firmware, but it has native support. It is pretty easy to install and set up the firmware. You just need the ISO of the firmware. Any idea which firmware version you need? 1.0.3 The reason why I am asking is because I do not really know whether the player and Shield edition is compatible. I can't guarantee the firmware version as well. Re: Import Blu-Ray Videos To PS4 I've tried the fx streaming in PBOs with the shield in the past and it was extremely unstable. I've heard that Playroom uses emulated blu ray streaming, so this would be the best way to go if you can manage to get it to work, maybe. XB1 & PS4? I can't seem to play any "bluray". At first it was working fine. Then i started streaming two movies and it would say there is a problem with one of them. I checked the source and sure enough the file would be there. I actually was able to see what it was referring to by opening the file in one of my Windows

What's new in Fifa 22:

- New Setting: Designate Key Players - FIFA 22 introduces “Designate Key Players” system to unlock and manage a set of unique key players directly from the Team Makeover screen. When this option is enabled, players can be set into the game and they will be key players for the entire season, earn you achievements and user ratings. If you wish, you can still transfer key players between the seasons. You are also still able to transfer regular players to another club.
- New System: Make Your Pitch Offensive - FIFA 22 introduces a new attacking system for FIFA Ultimate Team. As you install new players, you’ll be asked to choose your system. If your team is primarily defense-minded, then you’ll need to adjust around the new attacking options, and vice versa. Now, you can further personalize your team by giving your defenders ratings and let your attackers grow in your mind.

- New System: Madden A.I. - FIFA brings the same Madden AI team to Ultimate Team mode in Madden. Unlike in past iterations, you won't be able to have the computer make your top players. Instead, you'll be greeted by the AI's Mercenaries and Rookies as always, but the AI on Ultimate Team will also have more situational awareness this year, rewarding players who thrive in key situations.
- New Setting: Attacking Systems - You can now choose which attacking method you want to rely on more for your team. Whether it's scoring through direct balls or dribbling the ball to find an open teammate, the choice is yours. Changes are also made on AI and goalkeepers reactions to these new attacks.
- New Board Styles. - In FIFA Ultimate Team mode, you can now choose from seven different board styles and explore new ways to build your team via the user interface. Anything, from football style, to a more man-to-man approach, will give players a more realistic and interesting squad building environment.
- New Goalkeeper System - For Fantasy Premier League you can now have up to five goalkeepers on the teamsheet. Each keeper has their own stats and tactic in game. You can give them all the same number of players or players from different positions.
- New Damage to Trauma System - The new muscle damage system and full trauma mechanics combine to
