I have a simple dropdown menu in html and I would like to use different color for each of the dropdown menu from there on. Right now they are the same as the overall theme. Here's my example: A: Set the class for your nav to be each item in the drop down Then set the color for each one color: red; This way your main menu will always be the background color which would not be very useful. Updated Example Offside Aahh.... Football... Which Sports Arena will we be living at this week? It all starts this weekend in USA! There are a lot of interesting football matches here which will lead us to a lot of fun. It
