culturally they don't just fall out of bed in the morning. No matter what you call me, I ain't gonna walk around the mall dressed like this! I'm going to be judged, and judgement's subjective - unless it's in a federal class action lawsuit which would allow me to say "by default, the aforementioned countries are what I look like! Call me a gay to confirm this!" Translation: Corporations are stealing from me. You tried to defend yourself but I'll say you're doing it wrong. Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances. Funny, all the first write ups of this one lawsuit said the plaintiffs were talking about specific clothing items and companies... The poor business has responded by now in-fighting...or at least skewering the Anti-christian side of their website as being Mr. Hitler (in emails, etc.) for wanting to *stop* preaching. (I just relistened to the radio station from the suit and one of the audio clips of the bosses talking heads referenced McCarthyist accusations that Obama was listening to Islam...I can't wait for that to be played on get your head fuc*****g chopped off radio...) froglegs:tozzzz: Doctorkarem: The Pentagon is basically saying don't worry, we're not outfitting every male in a department store with riot gear. It's not like a terrorist cell forms out of simply wearing, say, T-Shirts. Your argument is so stupid that it's not even funny. No, exactly. It's because, as Doctor K, you've sort of chosen to build your own talking points here. No legitimate reasoning whatsoever. It's just your general loathing for "what the Crips have for breakfast". Back it up a little. Would your analogy work if we extended it to TFH and NHK? If not, why not? Yeah, why didn't you start this thread in TFH? I must be missing something.
