Step into the shoes of one of the surviving heroes of the alien invasion and battle your way through the remnants of the remaining human settlements. Travel through the four different regions of the world, from desolate wastelands to lush forests with lush natural resources. Discover more than 100 different weapons and use them in a multitude of ways to survive. Make use of more than 30 different abilities and become the ultimate mercenary out to stop the aliens. Engage in epic, 3D turn-based combat against a variety of enemies and experiment with over 50 unique weapons throughout the game. Main Features Nuclear wars break out among the military powers of the world Earth is attacked by the aliens Over 17 billion of inhabitants perish on Earth - Climb through the hostile landscape of a radioactive battlefield - Fight your way through massive alien mother ships - Locate and capture allies in the battlefield to gain even more power - Upgrade your military defenses by hiring the best mercenaries - Fight against the aliens in a turn-based campaign that only you can finish A mutagenic disaster turns Earth into a radioactive desert Each of the four regions of the world have been altered by the release of a highly toxic gas called the "Thunderstorm". The radioactive fallout of the lost atmospheric barrier has led to a worldwide increase of mutations among humans, and even the most desolate places on Earth have become the home of thousands of mutants that are hostile to humans. Earth has become a living hell and one of the largest urban conflicts in human history takes place on the beaches of every continent. Gameplay A turn-based strategy game with over 30 unique abilities and over 50 unique weapons Over 17 billion of inhabitants perished on Earth Dive into a tense battle where victory is defined by the brave actions of the individual Mission designers focus on creating meaningful and exciting missions that challenge the player in a different way from the plethora of other similar titles on the market. A collection of carefully designed heroes and support characters, each with their own personality and back story Evolve your mercenary into the ultimate fighting machine The story opens up with mankind still reeling from the alien invasion and the apocalyptic destruction of Earth, and you are one of the few survivors left that are looking to strike out on your own. Not a military man, you are looking for the means and opportunity to become a formidable military power so that you can defend the survivors of the planet.

What's new in Warhammer: Chaosbane - Gold Boost:

The Amplifier synergizes with the relationship boost mechanic in that enemies will gain the same boost for the same amount of relationship points once the amplifier is unleashed. Worms, Bloody Zombies and vampires are not required to have a relationship with the OtherSide. Nurgle, Silithyrium, Baron of the Rot, Khorne Blood and Braylar the Alien Humanoid are not required to be in a relationship with the OtherSide. You must have a relationship with Charnok the Unstable Bitch. You must have a relationship with Keyblade Knight. Friends with Halo and Sly Burke. Have Keyblade Knight symbiotically-boost your Resolve and Faith, while he naturally increases your Relentless Power and Endurance (respectively) * If you are linked to the Dog Brother, you must boost the Dog Brother's Endurance too! Otherwise, he won't be as resilient to illnesses. If you are successful in creating a Bloodline with the Unstable Amasinator, you may choose a second Bloodline that does not need to be installed directly onto your character. Creating the Engineer as an Angel or Champion costs a lesser amount of faith points than if you were to choose the Mephiston directly. The Angel will provide Faith for Charnok the Unstable Bitch. The Angel will provide Faith for Sly Burke. The Champion will provide Faith for King of the Forge. The Angel will provide Faith for Sirius the Imposter. In Kaganator, the Faith offered by the Champion or Angel is no less than that of a normal Faith. In Kaganator, the Faith provided by the Mephiston is no less than that of a normal Faith. Because it is impossible to obtain a Charnok in the drop rate, you must have the Charnok in your possession and install the Bloodline on him. The time required to install a Bloodline on an enemy or alter previous relation?has been cut in half. Anyone can directly apply the Relentless Power and Endurance Bloodlines to an enemy. You are permitted to apply the Relationship Boost to more than one enemy with an amplifier. One amplifier can supply the Relentless Power of five Bloodlines. More than one amplifier can supply the extra Endurance points. There are no negative effects to using amplifiers. An amplifier can provide multiple Blood
